

Partnership in the Spirit: a letter from leadership

he pages of this annual report are full—full of stories and statistics that illustrate how love, humility and partnership can lead to lasting transformation in individual lives and whole communities. In his letter to the early church in Philippi, Paul writes about love, humility and partnership. He names them as attributes that draw us nearer to Christ, but also strengthen our connection to one another.

"If, then, there is any comfort in Christ, any consolation from love, any partnership in the Spirit, any tender affection and sympathy, make my joy complete: be of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind. Do nothing from selfish ambition or empty conceit, but in humility regard others as better than yourselves." Philippians 2:1–3, NRSV

With the help of your generous support in 2021, the work of Global Ministries and UMCOR embodied love, humility and partnership within 111 countries around the world in the areas of missionary service, evangelism and church revitalization, humanitarian relief and recovery, and global health.

Each of these characteristics guide our work, but one is truly a beacon, illuminating our path year after year: partnership.

As the global mission, relief and development arm of The United Methodist Church, we rely on a strong community of partners to carry out and continue the church's worldwide work. But we also embrace partnership as a model of mission that honors the gifts of others, expands our relationships and creates room for the Spirit of God to move. Our partners are people, churches, conferences, grass-roots organizations and international NGOs. They join in Global Ministries' goals to make disciples of Jesus Christ; strengthen, develop, and renew Christian congregations and communities; alleviate human suffering; and seek justice, freedom, and peace.

These partners include you! Donors help to sustain our ministries, making certain that when and where there is need, it can be met. When a child is malnourished, or a town is flooded, we can respond quickly. When a neighbor needs an advocate, or a family is struggling to make ends meet, we can offer resources. Or, in love and humility, we can simply be fully present.

In this report, we celebrate the many ways that partnership in the Spirit connected us all to the transformational mission of God in 2021.

Who We Are

lobal Ministries is the international mission, humanitarian relief and development organization of The United Methodist Church. Working with partners and churches in countries worldwide, we seek to equip and transform people and places for God's mission.

Global Ministries connects congregations, conferences, other organizations and individuals to engage in God's mission by sending missionaries, supporting evangelism and church revitalization, providing humanitarian relief led by the United Methodist Committee on Relief, and improving the health of communities and individuals around the world.

Missionaries

raining, commissioning, assigning and supporting missionaries in the United States and around the world is a core aspect of Global Ministries' work. Today, United Methodist missionaries serve in many professional careers, including as pastors, evangelists and church coordinators; teachers and educators; doctors, nurses and other health workers; agriculturists; development specialists; community organizers and peacebuilders.

Types of missionaries

Global missionaries

Deepens relationships with partners and commitment to God's mission in long-term, cross-cultural contexts.

Church and Community Workers

Bridges church and community in mission within disenfranchised communities in the United States.

Racial/Ethnic Plan missionaries

Serves in a variety of cultural settings to reach racial and ethnic communities in the United States.

Global Mission Fellows

Connects faith and action as young adults by engaging in community and growing in social and personal holiness through placements in the United States and around the world.

Mission Volunteers

Engages in short-to-mid-term partnerships with communities around the world, striving to embody mutuality in mission.

Young adult program celebrates 70 years of service

US-2 missionaries, young adults who serve in the U.S. outside their home communities, have been sent out since the founding of the program in 1951.

"My US-2 experience helped me to hone who I am and to be authentically me," Marcharkelti McKenzie said, class of 2014-2016. McKenzie is from North Carolina and served with Open Door Ministries in Alabama. The challenge of moving away from family and traditional support networks is part of what enriched her experience.

When McKenzie arrived, she took the reins and began working across several different churches and ministries. "St. John's UMC became one of my pillar workplaces. I developed a youth camp while I was there, and I did it from the ground up with St. John's members," she explained. "They didn't think they were able to do it, but I was able to show them they could. The program continues today."

Providing for people's basic needs: clean water

United Methodists in Côte d'Ivoire worked diligently to bring clean water to four villages in 2020 and 2021, despite the limitations imposed by the spread of COVID-19.

Coordinated by missionary and evangelist the Rev. Dr. Jean Claude Masuka Maleka, tens of thousands of people now draw clean water through tall towers, pumping stations and spigots for wash areas. In some cases, a solar array provides power.

"The communities received this project with joy," said Masuka Maleka. "A nurse told us that clean water has boosted health conditions overall because she hasn't seen as many cases of diarrhea since people started using water supplied from the tower."

Decades of dedication

Katie Peterson has devoted 24 years of her life to mission service in the U.S. She was first commissioned as a young adult US-2, then as a United Methodist Deaconess, and in 2004, as a Church and Community Worker. Her current assignment as a CCW is the Eastbrook Mission Barn in New Castle, Pennsylvania.

Peterson works with volunteer teams to collect and verify UMCOR hygiene and cleaning kit contents coming from area churches and other organizations. A former dairy farm, the Mission Barn stores and ships the kits to disaster areas.

"We are one of the few volunteer agencies that has stayed open during the pandemic," Peterson confirmed. "During 2021, we sent out over 3,000 kits to needed areas around the country."

Evangelism and Church Revitalization

lobal Ministries establishes and nurtures new faith communities and supports existing ones. Evangelism and church revitalization includes equipping missionaries who train pastors to plant churches in new places; mission initiatives, which start new Methodist faith communities; scholarships that assist church leaders to earn the credentials and degrees they need for service and ministry; and networks that resource racial and ethnic faith communities across the United States.

Areas of work

Multiethnic ministries

Supports racial/ethnic congregations in the United States focused on vulnerable populations and activities that work to eliminate systems which undermine the poor and others on the margins.

Leadership development and scholarships

Provides resources and study opportunities for individuals and mission partners.

Mission initiatives

Develops Methodism in specific countries where it did not exist before; starting new faith communities and outreach programs that spread the gospel of Christ.

Missional connections

Provides a broad understanding of the global regions in which The United Methodist Church is engaged by becoming familiar with the cultural, social and historical context.

Feeding the 5,000

When COVID-19 cases spiked in New York, restrictions effectively shut down the city, causing job losses for many people. Within weeks, paychecks ceased, and savings evaporated. Just as the need for food rose, nearly 75% of food pantries closed.

First Spanish UMC in East Harlem was at first concerned for its own. But then the church developed a partnership with other churches to make food boxes available for both members and the community. Once word got out that First Spanish had food, demand rose quickly. With help from a Global Ministries grant, they began providing food for 400-450 households every week, or about 1,200-1,500 individuals.

The Rev. Dorlimar Lebrón Malavé, pastor of First Spanish, said God offered an opportunity to serve and grow in new ways. "Now people ask when our doors will reopen because they want to come to worship. Our church is growing, not because of what we've said, but because of what community members have seen us do."

Sharing the gospel at great lengths

In the Vietnam Mission Initiative, founded 23 years ago, new missionaries I. and T. Park serve as country director and director of Christian Education. Traveling to churches and faith groups all over the country, the Parks are deepening their understanding of a vibrant culture and nurturing relationships with fellow siblings in Christ... no matter the obstacles.

"We visited a small congregation that is so remote, we traveled by car, then by ferry across a river, then on the back of scooter bikes on narrow roads leading to the church. We were so blessed by the faithfulness of the pastor to serve this small community through all the challenges; through her and this small congregation, the light of the gospel was beautifully evident."

A hard-earned degree gives back

Even before the scholarship, Martha Fatoma's life was full. She had a spouse, a daughter in high school, cared for her niece and father and was also the head nurse at Kissy General Hospital in Freetown, Sierra Leone.

But hoping to improve at preventing illness and facilitating a better life for those in need, Fatoma applied for and received a World Communion Scholarship through Global Ministries that gave her the opportunity to earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing at Africa University in Zimbabwe.

After receiving her degree, she returned to Sierra Leone and the community that shaped her. "I learned managerial skills that I am applying now at Kissy, teaching my colleague nurses how to provide quality care to our patients and be examples in leadership. I have taken on a role as coach for quality improvement and we have changed the patients' waiting time from 3-4 hours to 2 hours."

Global Health

hrough United Methodist conferences and health boards, Global Ministries strengthens whole networks of health responses, from revitalization of facilities and staff training to building better water sources, developing sanitation facilities and promoting nutrition. It concentrates on eradicating preventable diseases such as malaria, HIV and AIDS, and COVID-19, and supporting the most vulnerable populations including mothers, newborns and children.

Areas of work

Health Systems Strengthening

Improves quality of health services and healthcare facilities in low-resource settings.

Imagine No Malaria

Expands the use of malaria prevention, diagnosis and treatment resources.

Maternal, Newborn and Child Health

Increases access to quality maternal, newborn and child health services and reduces morbidity and mortality rates.

Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH)

Provides clean and safe water sources and revitalizes sanitation facilities.

COVID-19 response

Supports health systems and communities around the world in the awareness, prevention and treatment of COVID-19.

A new hospital ushers in a new era for health care

For more than 100 years, United Methodists have provided health care to the remote, tropical region of Tunda in Eastern Congo. In 2021, construction of a new hospital was completed through Global Ministries and UMCOR funding in an area where there is no other hospital within a 62-mile radius.

Babo Ndjate, 68-years-old and born and raised in Tunda says his family, including his eight children, have always turned to the hospital for medical care. "I just returned from a week in the new facility with my 16-yearold son, who suffered from malaria. We appreciated the good conditions in which we spent our treatment time at the hospital."

Nine new buildings make up a hospital compound with wards for maternity, surgery, infectious disease, x-ray, lab work, and other medical necessities. A solar panel array provides the hospital's electricity for water and light.

Malaria rates fall, deaths decrease

In partnership with Global Ministries, Lupandilo Hospital in Kamina, DRC, has served as a major staging area for a malaria campaign to help people know what malaria is, how it is transmitted, where to go for treatment and what to do to prevent it.

From Lupandilo, health care workers, trainers and supplies were sent out to 24 smaller United Methodist health clinics. The campaign targeted pregnant mothers since most malaria deaths occur in infants and children under five. It encouraged prenatal and postnatal visits and supplied nets and malaria medicines at no cost to patients.

"In the community, the result is a gradual, yet remarkable, decrease in the number of deaths related to malaria," says Dr. Hugo Ilunga, Imagine No Malaria program coordinator for the North Katanga Episcopal Area. "The goal is to reach the point of no longer needing to talk about a case of malaria in our community."

Preventing and treating COVID-19 in hard hit places

Since the start of the pandemic, improving global access to coronavirus prevention and treatment has been a top priority for United Methodists. Global Ministries and UMCOR have supported efforts to ensure local access to health care, particularly in South Asian countries like India that were hit hard by the virus.

The Christian Medical College (CMC) in Vellore was able to procure essential medical equipment, medications and supplies, expanding its ability to provide COVID-19 treatment. It increased its intensive care capacity by 15 to 20%.

The Methodist Church of India (MCI) established a fully equipped COVID-19 isolation center on its Methodist Boys' School campus and purchased an ambulance to collect and transfer patients to the facility.

Other partners such as the Church's Auxiliary for Social Action (CASA) distributed COVID-19 protection hygiene kits, gave unconditional cash transfers and conducted public education campaigns.

Humanitarian Relief and Recovery

lobal Ministries, which includes the work of The United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR), strengthens the ability of the church and communities to respond to disasters and provide humanitarian relief worldwide. This work is accomplished through disaster relief and recovery, risk-reduction programming, addressing the needs and rights of migrants, and improving livelihoods and food security. The intentional care of creation and advancing environmental sustainability also reduce the impact of disaster.

Areas of work

International Disaster Response

Provides support to households and communities outside the U.S. experiencing significant negative impacts of natural disasters and crises.

U.S. Disaster Response

Helps the church and communities prepare, respond to and recover from disasters within the U.S. and its territories.

Global Migration

Improves the well-being of migrants, asylees and refugees in their new destinations, including places of transition and respite.

Environmental Sustainability

Addresses challenges facing God's creation by incorporating creation care into the mission, ministries, training programs, operations, and administration of Global Ministries and its partners, including conferences and churches.

Haiti under rubble again

On August 14, 2021, a 7.2 magnitude earthquake rocked Haiti, causing catastrophic damage in the southern and western regions of the island, killing 2,200 people and injuring 12,000 more. Medical facilities remained open but were completely overwhelmed, lacking sufficient personnel and medical supplies. UMCOR awarded grants to Eglise Methodiste d'Haiti (Methodist Church of Haiti) and to Service Chretien d'Haiti (SCH) to provide urgently needed medical supplies to several facilities. Subsequent grants addressed health care, food, water and hygiene in the hard-hit region.

Delivering hope in Yemen

UMCOR's long relationship with International Blue Crescent (IBC), a Muslim Aid organization, allows United Methodist relief to assist people that many other Christian organizations cannot reach. Four million people are internally displaced in Yemen, searching for safety amidst a civil war. Family food packages were delivered by IBC workers to a make-shift tent camp outside the city of Zinjabar. The aid packages contained a hygiene kit as well as flour, sugar, oil, rice and cans of beans. Many families hadn't eaten beans since they fled their home villages during airstrikes three years ago. Surveying the food packages, twelve-year-old Saleh said, "These will keep us full for weeks, it's like a dream."

Survivors in Michigan start recovery

In 2021, UMCOR awarded a grant to the Michigan Conference for direct assistance to those still working to recover from May 2020 Great Lakes region flooding. The funds purchased water heaters and furnaces, rebuilt damaged homes, paid for excavation and more. "This grant is life-changing for people in Arenac and losco counties," said Nancy Money, director of Community Impact for Midland County United Way. "It will make a huge impact. These people's needs would not be met if it wasn't for UMCOR."

Active storm years for Alabama-West Florida

UMCOR journeys with its local partners from early response to recovery and onwards, no matter how many times a particular region is impacted. Knowledge and skills obtained from a successful, ongoing Hurricane Michael (2018) recovery primed the Alabama-West Florida Conference disaster response team to respond to hurricanes Sally and Zeta rapidly and effectively in 2021. Chris Ackerman, Alabama-West Florida Conference's disaster response director for the recovery said, "By using experienced disaster case managers previously trained by UMCOR, we didn't have to start from scratch. Our Hurricane Michael work continues to make us better prepared for hurricanes like Sally, Zeta or whatever comes our way."

Humanitarian Relief and Recovery Global Migration

MCOR encourages, supports and equips Methodist and ecumenical partners for migration ministry. Relief and recovery in the form of food aid, basic necessities, and legal and transportation services to organizations working directly with vulnerable migrants and refugees are a few of the services UMCOR makes possible.

Staying in El Salvador

Tanaya lived in rural El Salvador and cared for three family members who were developmentally disabled. They were not affected by gang activity until relatives in her extended family were targeted and killed. Tanaya felt she had to flee with her family before she lost someone in her household.

At first, Tanaya wanted to migrate to the United States, but she knew her immediate family members were not likely to survive the journey. She was the only one in her household who could read and write. If they were separated for any reason, the consequences could be devastating.

Tanaya found temporary quarters in another village and was referred to Cristosal, an agency that works throughout the Northern Triangle countries of El Salvador, Nicaragua and Guatemala to support victims of violence. Ministries that help displaced people stay in their home countries are also part of UMCOR's commitment to support the needs of migrants.

Fortunately, Cristosal could increase its outreach in 2021 because of a Global Migration grant from UMCOR. Sixty-nine families received shelter, emergency humanitarian aid or temporary housing for relocation.

Reaching vulnerable young women in Afghanistan

After the last U.S. troops pulled out of Afghanistan in August 2021, the Taliban quickly took control of the country. The roles and rights of women and girls were once again curtailed and limited. Lack of access to education is a particular concern for young women.

After the withdrawal, UMCOR partnered with a Pakistani organization to reach nearly 9,000 female students in selected schools of the Nangarhar and Laghman provinces of Afghanistan who were either displaced there or returning home after being displaced in another part of the country.

The Taliban's control over the country had a psychological impact on students. Families were afraid to send their daughters to school because of persecution. UMCOR's partner recognized a decline in school attendance up to 50% because of fear and lack of information on actual government policies about girls' education. UMCOR funding supported extracurricular activities to relieve the stress of returnee/IDP girl students.

Environmental Sustainability

lobal Ministries' Environmental Sustainability program fosters the integration of environmental sustainability into every aspect of mission through environment-focused projects, tools and leadership development. The program leads sustainability initiatives within Global Ministries, supports the use of renewable energy, provides training and resources for climate care, spearheads an agencywide net-zero greenhouse gas commitment and offers an online network for global connection.

Water, light and good soil

Before the installation of solar panels at Kamisamba Farm in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the property had no power source. Although the farm had a water source, there was no way to pump the water to where it was needed.

"The solar project came at a crucial time," explained Lorraine Charinda, a missionary assigned to Kamisamba Farm as an agriculturist and rural economic development specialist. When she arrived, she discovered a couple of workers, dilapidated buildings, four pigs and half an acre of vegetables cultivated on the 500-acre farm

The solar energy system and accompanying water pipes and pumps were a joint effort between Global Ministries' Environmental Sustainability program and UMCOR.

By 2021, the farm was doing well — with 50 pigs, chickens, ducks, goats and fish ponds. More than 35 acres are farmed with vegetables, grains and fruit trees.

Backyard garden digs deep into community

In 2021, 21 EarthKeepers were commissioned for service by Global Ministries, including the Rev. Angie Gage, an ordained elder of the Arkansas Annual Conference. She describes herself as someone who does not have a "green thumb" like her maternal grandmother. "I would look out the window and think, 'Nanny would be so upset that the garden area in our backyard is just sitting there."

"I kept thinking, we've got to use that. We have so many people in our area who are food insecure."

Gage connected with Global Ministries' EarthKeepers program and found the training helpful in clarifying environmental theology. She received advice and suggestions from other EarthKeepers.

Her goal was to offer fresh vegetables to church members and neighbors, but particularly to people who come for the church's free community lunch, offered twice a week to anyone in need.

Yambasu Agriculture Initiative

he Bishop John K. Yambasu Agriculture Initiative supports episcopal areas that develop new agricultural projects utilizing United Methodist land holdings. Currently, the initiative supports African churches as they seek to fully mobilize local and regional resources for crops and animal raising. The program improves household livelihoods and food security through training opportunities, encourages direct participation in the program, and provides seeds and tools. The initiative works to increase the ability of the UMC and its communities in Africa to become self-sustaining.

The initiative awarded its first pilot grant in December 2020 and has to date awarded 13 grants to 12 annual conferences, for $3 million. For the current pilot phase, the grants awarded averaged about $230,000 and reached over 100 households per conference, promoting sustainable agribusiness and providing direct support to farmer groups engaged around the project sites.

In October 2021, Global Ministries Board of Directors approved grants for annual conferences in Sierra Leone, Liberia, Zimbabwe and the Democratic Republic of the Congo. Grants ranging from $166,000 to $265,000, for a combined total of $1.7 million, supported the episcopal areas as they established new agricultural projects, including crop and livestock farming on church-owned land.

Global Ministries and UMCOR

Financial Overview

Revenue

General Board of Global Ministries

Total operating revenue for 2021 of $42.3 million decreased by 19%, or $9.9 million, when compared to 2020. Bequest giving in 2020 exceeded $9 million, which was much higher than traditional giving in this category and accounted for most of the operating revenue variance. The World Service apportionment collection rate decreased from 77.2% for 2020 to 72.5% in 2021, resulting in a decline of $1 million in revenue. Shared costs reimbursements from UMCOR were down by $1.2 million, as our overall agency costs have come down in 2021 because cost savings measures were implemented in 2019 and 2020.

UMCOR

Total operating revenue for 2021 of $34.9 million exceeded prior year by $2.1 million. Giving to the UMCOR Advance was up $10.7 million for 2021, closing out at $29.7 million. Giving toward United States Disaster Response increased late in the year in response to the tornadoes that impacted Kentucky and surrounding states. The International Disaster Response Advance increased over the prior year with giving for the Haiti earthquake recovery effort and assistance with the Afghanistan crisis. Like Global Ministries, bequest giving for UMCOR in 2020 was much higher than traditional giving, which totaled $8.6 million. In 2021, bequest giving concluded at $2.8 million, $5.8 million less than 2020. Lastly, the FEMA grant for hurricane Harvey that impacted Texas back in 2017 concluded in 2020 and provided income of $2.5 million. No income from this grant was received in 2021.

Expenditures

General Board of Global Ministries

Operating expenditures for 2021 concluded at $35.3 million, which was down from $40.2 million in 2021, resulting in a decrease of $4.9 million, or 12.3%. Missionary Service expenditures in 2021 were $11.3 million, which was lower by $2.7 million compared to 2020. The number of missionaries continued to be lower in 2021 because of attrition and the inability to onboard new missionaries owing to the pandemic. The full impact of a cost reduction strategy implemented in 2019 and 2020 was fully realized in 2021. Support services costs concluded at $9.6 million in 2021, which was down $2.2 million, or 19%.

UMCOR

UMCOR operating expenditures for 2021 concluded at $22.9 million, which was down $800,000 from 2020. Advance projects expense increased by $3.9 million in 2021 and closed out at $7 million. This increase was in line with the higher contributions received for both USDR and IDR grants as mentioned in the UMCOR revenue section. As mentioned previously, the FEMA grant for hurricane Harvey concluded in 2020 with a released $2.5 million in 2020. No additional costs for this grant were incurred in 2021. Additionally, overall cost reductions implemented in 2019 and 2020 were fully realized in 2021, accounting for a reduction in support services costs of $700,000 in 2021.

Net Assets

General Board of Global Ministries

Total net assets for Global Ministries increased by $27.7 million in 2021 and finished at $372.5 million.

UMCOR

Total net assets for UMCOR increased by $16.7 million in 2021 and closed at $101.7 million for the year.

Report of independent auditor

Cherry Bekeart, LLP, conducted an audit of consolidated statements of Global Ministries' financial position as of December 31, 2021 and 2020, and the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements. Cherry Bekeart found that the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, and that the consolidated financial position of the General Board of Global Ministries, the United Methodist Committee on Relief of Global Ministries, Inc., and affiliates as of those dates, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We are truly humbled by the generosity of our donors who continue to partner with us in support of those in mission and to help those in need.

Michael Gurick Chief Financial Officer
