+ Higher Education and Ministry

GBHEM advances The United Methodist Church's educational mission by championing equitable access to learning, nurturing intellectual and spiritual growth, and investing in schools and students worldwide through grants, scholarships, leadership development, and transformational partnerships efforts.

▲ United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR) Projects

UMCOR responds to natural and human-made disasters and other life-changing events that make it difficult for communities to recover on their own. Agricultural initiatives and care for the environment is integrated with UMCOR's work to help communities in ways that make them stronger and more resilient.

● Missionaries

Training and sending missionaries into service around the world has been at the heart of mission since the early 1800's. United Methodist missionaries serve as pastors, educators, agriculturalists, peacebuilders and more.

◆ Global Health Projects

Through United Methodist conferences and health boards, Global Ministries works to strengthen whole networks of health responses, from revitalization of facilities and staff training to building better water sources, developing sanitation facilities and promoting nutrition.

* Yambasu Agriculture Initiative

Named after the late Bishop John K. Yambasu, the Yambasu Agriculture Initiative supports episcopal areas in Africa in developing new agricultural projects utilizing United Methodist land holdings, with the goal of providing long-term food and economic stability.

■ Advance Projects

This voluntary, designated, "second mile" giving channel of The United Methodist Church supports projects, missionaries, and ministries around the world. 100% of gifts to Advance projects go to their intended project or ministry.

★ Scholarships

GBHEM's scholarship program expands access to education by providing financial support to United Methodist students worldwide, equipping emerging leaders for service, ministry, and professional vocations grounded in faith, learning, and social responsibility.
