FORCED MIGRATION

More people are forcibly on the move today than at any other time in history, fleeing acute poverty, war and civil conflict, as well as natural and human-made disasters. Working through trusted partners, UMCOR helps provide refuge and support to people seeking safety and abundant life.

Uphold their dignity

AGRICULTURE AND FOOD SECURITY

Feeding the hungry is a clear biblical imperative. Through the Yambasu Agriculture Initiative, we work with partners to improve farming and agricultural methods, increase crop yields and boost nutrition—efforts that are more important now than ever, given the elimination of USAID’s investment in the World Food Program.

Improve their lives

(Advance #982188).

PEACE

Corners of our world are under siege. In places like Gaza, D.R. Congo, Ukraine and Sudan, communities are experiencing ongoing warfare. We continue to expand efforts to support people in these and other war-torn areas—providing food, household necessities, emotional support and health care.

Support peace efforts
Give to Peace (Advance #3022835).

EDUCATION

For decades, Methodists have prioritized educating leaders for the church and the world and provided access to education through scholarships and support of Historically Black Colleges and Universities and other Methodist-related institutions. We reaffirm our commitment to breaking cycles of poverty and systemic inequality to work for educational opportunity that empowers the next generation of transformative leaders.

Provide opportunity

(Advance #3022844).

GLOBAL HEALTH

For millions of people today, even a minor injury or illness can be a death sentence without access to proper care. This tragic reality is now further compounded by the dismantling of USAID and elimination of most U.S. foreign aid, especially in Africa. We are working to aid catastrophically crippled health care programs through Methodist health boards, hospitals and clinics so they can provide vaccines, care for pregnant women, children and babies, and offer health care programs that limit the spread of disease.

Heal the sick

(Advance #3021770).

“Because it’s who is my neighbor, not who is my enemy”

As Christians, we are called to respond with love and courage to today’s urgent challenges—forced migration, systemic injustice, war and conflict, and global inequity.

The United Methodist Church unwaveringly affirms the dignity of all people, created in the image of God.

We invite you to explore our response across five key areas of urgent need—and to join us in compassionate, faithful action.

Together, we can meet this pivotal moment with hope and action

In a world facing overwhelming need, your support helps us respond with compassion, courage and lasting impact.
